Hi,

My apologies for not responding much sooner, we've had a number of cases to consider, and it's taken quite a while to get through them and get comments back. I got the last comments back yesterday.

Following a review of the PID it was felt that there are potentially other cheaper options available, such as extension of the current property. I understand the issues you've raised on the phone with me but that would need to be fully explained within the case. We'd also need plans for the proposed building so that we could do some comparisons of what the current and proposed buildings would provide and how that may be different. At the moment, the initial review suggests that this wouldn't be supported to be taken forward and the case is likely to be rejected if we aren't able to show why other options wouldn't work.

It would be good to have a call to talk through the request and see whether there's any further information that may help this application.

Thanks
